ECCT is taking that next step during its 21st season with the creation of a new space that will indeed allow ECCT to spread its wings and venture into new programming and a whole new chapter for our organization.

Our expansion plans

Building tomorrow's stars... ...starts today!

This project will require the financial support of donors at all levels who want to make a significant difference in the direction, amount and quality of arts programming for Eau Claire residents of all ages. Your support can be a one-time gift, installment payments, or a three or five year pledge based on a particular level of giving. Here's how you can be part of making that difference:

★ Exclusive Naming Rights

This is an opportunity for you and your family to have a lasting and memorable impact on the arts in Eau Claire and the community as a whole by securing Naming Rights to a specific location in the new project. ECCT staff will work with donors as to how they want their gift recognized and how they want their space designated through signage. Because of the significance of these gifts, donors will be offered a package of special perks and privileges from which to choose: including season tickets specials events, parking, receptions and donor functions. Areas available for naming:
